CANCER CURED

LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

Dashed His Economy.

This is a story about a man over in Alexandria who has a great deal of money, to which he is deeply attached. He is, in fact, so attached to it that he hates to be separated from a dollar of it. He has a silk hat, too—a well preserved silk hat of great age and undoubted respectability. He is fond of his hat, and he'd like to wear it every day, but silk hats, you know, are expensive, so he has been wearing his for these many years just on Sunday. On week days he wears a shocking bad hat which does not concern this story. The last time the storks visited the Alexandria man's house they were generous. They brought twins, a boy and a girl. The father was sitting in the parlor when somebody entered to bring the news.

"Well, you're a father now," said the somebody.

"Boy or girl?" asked the Alexandria man.

"Both—twins."

"Great Scott," cried the father, springing to his feet. "Give me my silk hat! I might as well wear it every day now. What's the use of trying to be economical, anyway?"—Washington Post.

Lowell's Greatest Defect.

In this same year, 1848, Lowell sent forth also "The Vision of Sir Launfal," his first attempt at telling a story in verse. Perhaps it is the best of all his serious poems—loftiest in conception and most careful in execution. His habit then, as always, was to brood over the subject he wished to treat in verse, to fill himself with it and finally to write it out at a single sitting, if possible. He rarely rewrote, and his verse lacked finish and polish, though it never wanted force. It was at this time that he told Longfellow he meant to give up poetry because he could "not write slowly enough."

His poetry also suffered from another failing of his. He was not content to set forth beauty only and to let the reader discover a moral for himself. Longfellow, Whittier and Lowell all insisted too much at times on the lesson of the song. And Lowell knew his own defect and wrote later in life, "I shall never be a poet till I get out of the pulpit, and New England was all meeting house when I was growing up."—"James Russell Lowell," by Brander Matthews, in St. Nicholas.

Bicycle Wheels.

It is not as generally understood as it should be, perhaps, that bicycle wheels seldom or never are subjected to lateral strains. They need to resist only those strains which pass through their own plane, and in this plane only have they any strength worth speaking of. This is worth remembering when the use of wheels of this type is being considered for three or four wheeled vehicles, where the conditions are essentially different, and where, in turning corners rapidly, or in going over ground that causes the vehicle to be inclined sideways, a very considerable lateral strain may be brought upon the wheels—a strain which the ordinary bicycle wheel is, very properly, entirely unfitted for. This is to be considered also in connection with devices for attaching two bicycles side by side to make a duplex, or four wheeled machine, of them. Neither the frame, the bearings nor the wheels of a properly constructed bicycle are adapted to such use without injury.—American Machinist.

June Water.

A quaint old superstition as to the medicinal virtues of "June water" still obtains in Hingham and other old towns in Massachusetts. It must be caught from the first shower that falls after 12 o'clock on the night of May 31. An old lady of Hingham tells a writer, who sends an account of "June water" to the Boston Transcript, that it is bottled and used for sick folks mostly. "You oughtn't to give 'em medicine in ordinary water, didn't you know? Why, I've had my son's wife send up from Boston for a bottle or two when the boys was sick. Then if I feel as if I can spare it I use it for preserves. They'd never spoil done in June water if you'd kep' 'em 100 years. Why, there ain't a speck or a mite of dirt in it. It's real different from other water when you come to look."

Rebuked From the Pulpit.

Preaching in the abbey Canon Wilberforce told a good story of the celebrated Welsh preacher, Christmas Evans, who dared publicly to express his thankfulness for Jenny Lind's beautiful singing. A member of his congregation, a strait-laced Calvinist, standing on the steps of the pulpit, asked the preacher whether a man dying at one of Jenny Lind's concerts would go to heaven. "Sir," replied Mr. Evans, "a Christian will go to heaven wherever he dies, but a fool remains a fool even on the pulpit steps." Even the sober abbey congregation could hardly stifle its enjoyment of this repartee.—Westminster Gazette.

Resigned to It.

"What does this here 'new woman' talk mean, John?"

"Hit means, Maria," replied the old farmer, "that women air a-takin the places what men occupied. You'll find the plow right where I left it, an when you sharpen the ax you kin sail into a dozen cords o' wood, an I'll have supper a-bilin when you git home!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Appropriate.

"Papa," said a boy, "I know what makes people laugh in their sleeve."

"Well, my son, what makes them?"

"'Cause that's where their funny bone is."—London Quiver.

Historians are now trying to prove that the little village of Yaleta, Tex. is the oldest settlement in the United States.

The highest steeple in the world that of the Antwerp cathedral—41[illegible]

Grumblers.

How full the world is of grumblers! Many of the same people who scold in summer because it is warm scold the next winter because it is cold. There is no point between zero and the nineties that suits them. Whether the gray clouds yield rain or snow makes no matter. Neither is wanted. If skies are clear, somebody's cistern needs rain. If the showers descend, somebody's feathers are ruined. It would add much to our happiness and detract much from the fatal tendency to grow old if we would strive after contentment and cease worrying over the inevitable. The truly happy are the happy go lucky, who take everything as it comes and make the best of it.

If it rains, all that is left to do is to put up our umbrella, if we are so fortunate as to have one, and trudge along. Wet feet and bedraggled skirts won't kill one any more than poverty and drudgery will, if there is something within us too sunshiny for poverty to cloud and too noble for drudgery to debase. The person who spends his life scolding because things don't go to suit him is like the fly on the king's chariot wheel. Things may not be planned exactly for the comfort of the fly, but his protest will never stop the procession. The best tactics for flies and grumblers to pursue is to take what comes along and be glad it is no worse.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Loving Too Late.

Not long ago I met a young lady in poverty whom I had previously known in wealth, and this was in substance the story she told me: "Father died suddenly in Washington, and the professional skill through which he had coined money for us died with him. I am not weeping because we are poor. I am broken hearted because none of us saw that he was dying. Was it not pitiful that he should think it best not to tell any of us that he was sick? And I, his petted daughter, though I knew he was taking opium to soothe his great pain, was so absorbed by my lovers, my games and my dresses that I just hoped it would all come right. If I could only remember that even once I had pitied his suffering or felt anxious about his life, I might bear his loss better!"

The story is common enough. Many a father, year after year, goes in and out of his home carrying the burden and doing the labor of life, while those whom he tenderly loves hold with but careless hands all of honor and gold he wins by toil and pain. Then some day his head and hands can work no more! And the hearts that have not learned the great lesson of unselfish love while love was their teacher must now begin their sad duty when love has left them alone forever.—Amelia E. Barr in Ladies' Home Journal.

Caterpillars and Eye Diseases.

It will come as a surprise to many of our readers that caterpillars are responsible for an affection of the eyes which may entail prolonged suffering and even result in serious damage to vision. That such is the case has been abundantly proved by a number of instances on record in which more or less intractable inflammation of the eyes has been found to be associated with the presence of hairs which, after removal, have been identified as belonging to the genus caterpillar. At a meeting of the Ophthalmological society a case was related in which a lad was struck in the eye by a caterpillar thrown at him by a playful schoolfellow. He picked up the insect to examine it, and the hand which seized it became red and developed papules and other indications of local irritation. A day or two later the eye became the seat of what proved to be a very troublesome inflammation, associated with the presence of rounded elevations due to an accumulation of cells around the imbedded hairs, which were subsequently discovered and removed.—Medical Press.

Does a Deer Challenge?

I will try to reply to your question, "Does a deer challenge?" In the Lake Superior region it is not an uncommon thing to hear a buck whistle, as we call it. He may be following the trail of another buck, or may be only disturbed by the hunter. The sound is somewhat like escaping steam, but shrill and loud enough to be heard from a fourth to a half of a mile. I have known one, after being slightly wounded, to take cover in a dense swamp and repeatedly send forth his angry challenge. The sound is, I think, produced by the throat and mouth and would require the head to be elevated and mouth slightly open. I am of the opinion that this is the only note of anger or warning that the white tail deer gives.—Forest and Stream.

A Practical Husband.

Surely the Monmouthshire man who caused his wife's wedding ring to be inscribed, "If thee doesn't work, thee shasn't eat," was determined that there should be no mistake in what he required in a wife. The only wonder is how any woman could be induced to marry him with such a threat before her eyes. The exact date of this ring is not known, but it is previous to the eighteenth century.—Chambers' Journal.

A Smart Reply.

The burgomaster of A—— was invited to attend a centenary celebration. He declined with thanks, adding that it was impossible for him to take part in the proceedings on this occasion, but that he would be most happy to come next time.—Zondagsblad.

In the folklore of almost every country the magpie figures very largely. In popular superstitions to see one magpie is unlucky; to see two denotes merriment or a marriage; to see three, a successful journey; four, good news; five, company.

Bedquilts made of perforated sheets of white paper are becoming quite popular in Europe, especially in England Holland and France.

He Couldn't Explain.

A very small newsboy, who had just sold his last paper, leaned against the iron lamppost and shouted with all his lung power: "Pa-i-i-per! Twelvy-clack pa-i-i-per! Extry twelvy-clack!"

The boy was working overtime, either from force of habit or because of his natural exuberance. It is not uncommon in Calhoun place for a boy to stop short and yell several times, merely to relieve himself.

It happened that a pedestrian was attracted by the shouts of the boy against the lamppost. He smiled as he looked at the youngster and then said, "All right, give me one of your papers."

That startled the boy. He looked sheepishly at the man, rubbed his hand into his pocket and said, "I ain't got any."

"Didn't I hear you calling a 12 o'clock paper?"

"Yes, but I didn't mean"— It was too much of an explanation. A professor of psychology who had studied the laws of unconscious cerebration might have told why the boy stood on the corner shouting papers when he had no papers to sell, but the boy adopted a less difficult course and ran away.—Chicago Record.

Taking Exercise.

Poor Harry Shelman, the long haired poet who dressed his entire person to resemble Buffalo Bill, and who was, in fact, startlingly like the greatest of scouts, used to tell me of a literary friend of his who had a novel method of taking exercise. His workshop was on the top floor of his house, far from the noise of the street, and he used to write about 15 hours a day. He was not a Howells or a Bronson Howard, whose working hours never exceed four in any one day. He worked, he labored, he toiled. He had no time for a bicycle and could not afford a horse. He hated walking. Run he could not. Swimming was out of the question. Still he must have exercise. He kept his dictionary in the basement and his thesaurus in the kitchen. As he used both very often it was necessary to make many trips down stairs and up again, and in that way he kept himself in splendid physical condition. A visitor once saw him dashing down stairs like a madman and soaring up again like a kite and was distressed till informed by John's wife that John was simply hunting for a word and had found it.—New York Press.

A Philadelphia Mustache.

"I've seen some peculiar whiskers in my day," remarked a Ninth street barber yesterday, "but there was a fellow in here the other day who simply beat the deck for mustaches. They were of the long, flowing kind, and when in repose hung gracefully down over his shirt front. After I had finished shaving him he asked me to dress his mustache, giving me my instructions how to do it. First, I gave it a brilliantine bath and combed it out. Then I waxed it until the points stood out on each side of his face like bayonets. He seemed very proud of it and didn't object when I asked him if I might measure it. In fact, he seemed rather pleased. I took a tapeline and found that from tip to tip that marvelous mustache measured a trifle over 23 inches. He next asked me to curl it. This was a difficult operation, but after exhausting several curling irons I succeeded in heating a section of gas pipe to the proper temperature and finished the job."—Philadelphia Record.

Not So Funny After All.

Two little fellows struck a mine of amusement one day last week and worked it for all it was worth.

Their plan was to stand at the street corner, and when a pedestrian got in good range they called out excitedly, pointing to the victim's feet:

"Say! You dropped your footsteps!"

It was great fun—for the boys.

Presently an old lady approached the corner. She was fat and looked important. The boys hugged themselves in sheer delight. This time, to prolong the enjoyment, they began:

"Say, missus! 'Scuse us, but you dropped somethink!"

"Dear me! What? Such nice little boys, I'm sure." And she stopped and picked up a silver quarter lying directly before her and sailed on.—Philadelphia Times.

Costly Society In the Navy.

A commander in the United States navy says that the heaviest drain on the resources of the officers comes from social obligations, especially in foreign ports. They are invited to dine with a king, a prince, a governor, and as a representative of this nation they have to go. Then in return they must invite the potentate to dinner with them. They must decorate the ship brilliantly and provide a sumptuous "spread" not only for the king, but for as many ministers and hangers on as he chooses to bring with him, and every time this is done each officer must go down into his pocket for $25 or more.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Napoleon's Mother.

Napoleon's mother was as much of a soldier as her great son. On one occasion, when he wanted his own way, she gave him to understand that the first duty of a soldier was obedience and that if he wished to be a soldier he must, first of all things, learn to obey. He had, to the end of his life, the highest regard for his mother. At his court she was styled "Mme. Mere." Speaking of the influence of the mother on the character of the child, he said, "The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother."

The Retort Courteous.

The essence of all fine breeding is the gift of conciliation. A man who possesses every other title to our respect except that of courtesy is in danger of forfeiting them all. A rude manner renders its owner always liable to affront. He is never without dignity who avoids wounding the dignity of others.—Lord Lytton.

The Elections in the East.

THE elections held in thirteen States last Tuesday resulted in a great victory for the Republicans, who carried by big majorities Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Utah, Ohio and Maryland. The Democrats were successful in only two States to-wit: Mississippi and Virginia. The result is looked upon as a rebuke to Grover Cleveland's policy, which, to a certain extent has been looked upon by voters as being the cause of the hard times the past few years. That the next President of the United States will be a Republican there can now be no question.

"Cramming" in the Public Schools.

About twenty years ago the subject of "cramming" in our public schools received a great deal of attention from the newspapers and not a few educators, and an effort was made to put a stop to the evil. For a time the movement was partially successful and teachers were compelled to teach instead of hearing lessons that had been learned at unreasonable times at home after school hours, but of late years "cramming" has again been resorted to by many teachers. The plan may be a very good one in promoting rapid advancement in the young, but it is most certainly a pernicious one in the long run, as it has a tendency to break down the physical health of the scholar. The views of Paul South, in regard to this question, as expressed in the San Jose Mercury, deserves the serious consideration of both parents and teachers. He says: "In a paper published in a neighboring valley I recently read an earnest protest of an indignent parent who appealed to the public to aid him in defense of his children against the oppression of the schools as conducted in his valley. He asserts that the course of study is so severe that his children, in order to keep up with their class and obtain the requisite number of credits, are compelled to spend so much time in "home work" that they are unable to render any assistance in the labor of home or ranch. More than that, "they are deprived of proper time for recreation." I have heard other parents make the same complaints, and I would ask in all seriousness, is this just to the children? Why should a child be compelled to do four months' work in two months? Is our boasted school system but a Procrustean bed wheron little ones are maltreated? Do we wish the next generation to be invalids with nervous systems shattered, or hopeful, forceful men and women? Why so much crowding through school? I think many parents err as greatly as teachers or school Boards desiring their delicate children to "keep up with their class," and permitting them to study in the hours when they should be sleeping. The teacher may not be able to adjust the course to individual strength or needs, but certainly there is cause for complaint when school children have no time to assist in home duties or to take needful recreation. This matter might be profitably discussed in institutes, Board meetings or teachers' meetings. The future of the nation is in the hands of the teachers of to-day. It is an awful responsibility and every teacher should feel his share of it. There will come a time, perhaps not very far in the future, when the world will demand something more of schools and universities than athletes and invalids.

THE conviction of Durrant was received with satisfaction by almost every man, woman and child in this community. It now remains to be seen if the verdict of death by hanging is to be carried out. The crime committed by Durrant was one of the most diabolical of modern times. He is a monster in human shape and the sooner he has his neck broken the better. We will then know that innocent girls are safe, at least in so far as Durrant is concerned.

When the Cold Mists of the Morning

hang like a pall over the surface of the earth, it will be well for you before venturing into the raw vaporous air, charged, perhaps, with the seeds of malaria or provocative of rheumatic twinges, to take a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and thus shield yourself from atmospheric influences threatening to health. If you happen to get snowed, sleeted or rained upon, use the same preventive, and avoid the rheumatism or a dangerous cold. The agreeable warmth infused into the circulation by this genial stomachic, its invigorating and regulating properties commend it to all appreciative of the fact that prevention is better than cure. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness and kidney trouble, sick headache and debility.

O. H. Platt, general blacksmith and horseshoer, who believes in the value of printers' ink, advertises in another column that he is prepared to do all work in his line, promptly and in a workmanlike manner. His shop is located near the Union Hotel, where he would be pleased to have the farmers of Sonoma Valley drop in.

Sonoma City, with a population of nearly 800, has only one physician within its incoporated limits, while Sebastopol, which is about the same size as Sonoma, has five doctors. Sonoma Valley, with a population of 2500, has only two physicians; one of these resides in town and the other just outside the limits. This speaks pretty well for the health of Sonoma.

Harry Krager of the Chicago Saloon, Santa Rosa, is the smiling and genial Harry of old. His place is the resort of Sonoma visitors to the County Seat, who are always cordially welcomed by him. He has one of the best appointed and central resorts in Santa Rosa, where he keeps the best of wines, liquors and cigars for those of his patrons who favor him with a call.

Station Agent Read and Carrol Prunty, while driving from the Donahue depot in a light buggy last Tuesday morning, had a narrow escape from serious injury. As they were leaving the depot Mr. Read raised an umbrella which frightened the horse and caused him to bolt suddenly. The buggy was overturned and the occupants took a header and were dumped into the middle of the street. Both escaped injury but the buggy and harness were more or less damaged.

The Pacific Reclamation Company gives notice in another column, through its foreman, H. Masterson, that hunting and trespassing on the leveed lands belonging to the company will hereafter be strictly forbidden. The company has been much annoyed of late by hunters, who apparently think it has no rights which they are bound to respect, that its directors have decided to prosecute all trespassers on its reclaimed and leveed lands. Of course the law allows sportsmen to hunt in all tide water streams to their hearts' content but does not make it legal to invade enclosed or leveed lands.

The following officers of Sonoma Grove, No. 75, U. A. O. D., were installed on Friday evening last by District Deputy Grand Arch, D. Codiga of district No. 46: S. Ciucci, P. A.; C. Oliveria, N. A.; L. Nessi, V. A.; A. G. Bulotti, Corresponding Secretary; G. Pedroia, Financial Secretary; D. Valente, Treasurer; P. Sonognini, Conductor; [illegible], I. G.; R. Cantoni, O. G. The grand officers will pay Sonoma Grove a visit to exemplify the work of the order on the evening of the 15th inst., on which occasion there will be a grand banquet at the Sonoma House.

Samuel Jones of the Pacific Reclamation Company visited the Jones ranch several days this week. Mr. Jones, who is a man of world-wide experience, has recently returned from a prolonged visit to many of the Eastern and Western States. He attributes the prevailing hard times to a scarcity of money and not to over production. He says, and very aptly, too, that while there is a scarcity of money people economize to such an extent in the consumption of food products and other necessaries of life that farming and manufacturing have ceased to be profitable. He says let there be plenty of money, it matters not what kind it may be, and good times will necessarily follow. Mr. Jones returned to his home in the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Tuesday.

END OF A CELEBRATED CASE.

Carriger Will Contest at Last Compromised.

The Widow, Mrs. Kate Carriger, Accepts $2500 and the Heirs Take the Estate.

The Carriger will case, one of the most celebrated and expensive legal contests ever instituted in the courts of Sonoma county, came to an end last Wednesday afternoon.

The parties to the suit on the one side were the contestant, Mrs. Kate Carriger, widow of the late Wm. Carriger, and on the other the heirs named in the will to-wit: Mrs. A. C. Tufts, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Schetter, David, Sol. and Boggs Carriger, the sisters and brothers of the deceased, to whom he willed his entire estate, valued at between $8000 and $9000.

On the afternoon in question the litigants and their attorneys met in Santa Rosa and settled the case out of court.

The contestant by the terms of the compromise accepted $2,500 in settlement of her claim on the estate, which will now be divided among the heirs.

The contest has been a long, bitter and expensive one, and it is said has cost both sides at least $12,000.

The case has been before the courts for three years and has been tried several times.

THE RAIN.

Precipitation 1.50 of an Inch—Sufficient to Set the Plows to Work.

The rain which fell last Sunday morning and Tuesday, according to Signal Service Hall's rain gauge, was 1.50 of an inch. The precipitation was most welcome to our farmers, as it was sufficient to set the plows to work. Stock and dairymen are also in good cheer, as the wild grasses have taken a start and with occasional showers between now and the new year will ensure abundance of feed for stock. The season has opened very auspiciously for the Sonoma Valley farmer.

Death of Mrs. Pickett.

Mrs. Catherine B. Pickett, wife of Wm. Pickett, died at her home on Napa street last Sunday of old age. The deceased had resided in Sonoma for many years, having located here with her husband in the early sixties. Mrs. Pickett was the mother of the late Henry Pickett and Mrs. Dr. Hayward, now residing in Rochester, N. Y. The funeral took place Tuesday, the remains being temporarily placed in the receiving vault in Mountain Cemetery. Mrs. Pickett was a highly cultivated lady and in her younger days was noted for her vivacity and entertaining manners. Her husband, the venerable Wm. Pickett, is at the present time very old and feeble. The deceased was aged 81 years and three months.

Blood on the Moon.

Agostine Ardenghi was arrested on Thursday last on complaint of M. La Franchi, charged with battery. The accused was taken before Judge Cheney and admitted to bail in the sum of $100 to answer the charge. The arrest was the outcome of a melee in the Swiss Hotel on Wednesday night, in which the complainat was the "under dog" in the fight.

Vandalism.

Recently parties, who evidently have a spite against Dr. Nordin's Agua Caliente Springs Resort, broke into the bathing establishment and flooded the elegantly appointed bath rooms by turning on the faucets. A large window was also smashed. M. K. Cady, who has charge of the property pending the litigation, will have the guilty parties prosecuted if apprehended.

No Capital Required.

That is, you are not asked to invest any, but will be started in business on the capital of S. I. Bell Company, Publishers, No. 2018 Columbia Ave., Philadelphia. They will show you how to make as much money in a week as you would at any of the ordinary occupations in a month. See their advertisement on another page.

Ludeman Divorce Case.

The divorce case of Annie Ludeman vs. John Ludeman will come up before Judge Dougherty on November 21st. The parties to the suit have been maried over twenty years and have a large family of children.

The City Dads.

The Board of City Trustees met in regular monthly session last Wednesday evening, Trustees Poppe, Bulotti and Hartin being present. Trustees Schocken and Seipp were absent, the latter in San Francisco and the former in Santa Rosa.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting the following business was transacted:

Fifty dollars were appropriated for graveling streets.

The cemetery committee instructed Clerk Breitenbach to notify James B. Morris that unless the body of his mother be taken out of the public receiving vault in Mountain Cemetery, where it has reposed for several months, and properly buried within six days the city authorities will remove and inter said body at his (Morris') expense.

City Marshal Robin was instructed to notify Mrs. Roberta Porter, or her agent, to have the sidewalk in front of her property on Napa street repaired. The Street Committee was authorized to place a culvert at the corner of Second-street East and Patten street.

The application of Fred. T. Duhring for a wooden curbing on Second-street East in front of the Duhring and Clewe properties was laid over for further consideration.

Mrs. A. McCarthney, a resident of San Francisco, was granted the privilege of erecting a vault in Mountain Cemetery upon payment of $26 to the city.

Two bids were received for building the Recorder's office inside the City Pavilian, as follows: B. P. Norris, $50; A. J. Van Every, $35. The contract was awarded to the latter. The painting was given to the former, his bid being $17.

The following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

G. S. Harris, sprinkling streets	$ 81 00
J. G. Marcy, supplies	11 77
H. H. Granice, printing	15 50
L. Maffie, hauling gravel	35 00
J. E. Robin, salary	15 00
L. Breitenbach, labor	9 00
F. Breitenbach, salary	25 00
J. B. Small, building bridge	272 00
Mrs. J. A. Poppe, supplies	2 10
Total	$466 37

The Board then adjourned.

The Nordin Suit.

The Nordin civil suit came up before Judge Dougherty last Tuesday. Attorney Maxwell, counsel for Mrs. Nordin, confessed error, and got the court's permission to file an amended complaint. The case will again come up on the 14th inst. In the meantime the expenses against the Agua Caliente Resort are piling up and by the time busband and wife have had a surfeit of law as she is dispensed is cases of this kind they will be lucky indeed if anything is left to them out of the valuable estate. The property is still in the hands of Trustee Cady. Dr. Nordin is residing in San Francisco and Mrs. Nordin is the guest of Alameda friends.

Coroner Young and the Supervisors.

Coroner Young, who has been running his office on an extravagant basis the past year, was yanked up before that august body and their legal adviser, District Attorney Seawell, last Wednesday, to explain certain expenses attendant at inquests held by him. It was apparent that the young gent was running his office "for all the traffic would bear," and the bills he had O. K'd were laid over. He was then admonished to go slow in the future.

Sonoma Valley Apples and the Foreign Market Trade.

The Batto Fruit Dryer Company of this valley will ship this morning fifty boxes of Sonoma Valley apples to Japan. Already the company has made several shipments of apples to Siberia and Mexico. The shipping qualities of apples raised in this valley cannot be surpassed. The apples sent to Siberia arrived at their destination in excellent order after being in transit over six weeks.

Horace Greeley once said: "The way to resume is to resume." Speaking of again putting gold into circulation after the war. But you may say "resume" any number of times to that torpid liver of yours and it won't budge until you take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Many people seem to forget that Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache are all caused by a sluggish liver. Keep the liver active.

S. Schocken visited the County Seat Wednesday.

The Cackling Club held its regular meeting Wednesday at the pretty home of Mrs. Wm. Goodman at Schellville, at which it was decided to suspend the meetings until after the holidays.

It is well to be quite aware that little Marie Antoinette ruchings finish neckbands now and that a loosely tied bow just the color of the silk of the vest or made of the silk of which the waist is composed may decorate the front of a bodice just below the neckband. The arrangement of collarbands, it should be noted, is entirely different from last year's mode. It is attention to these wee details that distinguishes the modish woman from the unfashionable one.

Dr. and Mrs. Osborne returned this week from a brief visit to the metropolis.

For those who have a sweet tooth Jim Crow is considered delicious. To make it put New Orleans molasses in a frying pan and let it boil until it thickens—about six minutes. It should be one-half an inch deep. Have ready buttered slices of bread, without crusts, cutting them into square or oblong pieces. Lay them in the boiling molasses until crisp. Drain and serve hot.

Miss Eva Prunty returned from Guerneville last Monday evening after a pleasant visit of several weeks with friends.

Mrs. Margaret Macarthur of England is 105 years of age and can walk three miles without fatigue, which is more than most young society ladies care to accomplish. Her hearing is good and she reads without spectacles.

Chas. Novinsky, the Napa street merchant, went to San Francisco Sunday afternoon where he remained several days purchasing a new stock of goods.

A black diamond of extraordinary size, weighing nearly two pounds, was found in Brazil in July, and has been shown to the French Academy. It is to be broken up, its industrial value being some $40,000.

Oscar Campbell of San Francisco visited his father, B. F. Campbell, last Sunday.

Crystallize mint leaves is a new confection handed around at fashionable dinners with salted almonds.

Capt. and Mrs. H. E. Boyes visited San Francisco Wednesday on business connected with their bathing establishment.

An easy way to prepare croutons or crusts for tomato or bean soup is to butter one or two slices of bread on both sides, cut in small squares and brown in the oven.

In Poland it was once the custom to sentence backbiters to go on all fours and bark like a dog for the space of a quarter of an hour. This mode of punishment was introduced during the reign of Charles V, but was soon abolished, as it had to be applied so frequently that His Majesty's rest was disturbed, for the barking went on all the forenoon while the courts were sitting.

County Superintendent of Schools, Davis, one of our hardest worked and most conscientious public officials, has been granted a leave of absence of one month by the Board of Supervisors.

Miss Helen V. Boswell has been speaking in New York at a mass meeting held by the Robert T. Lincoln Club. She explained woman's attitude toward Republican party principles thus: "It is women who have to think of the scale of wages, because it is the women who must spend the wages when they are earned, and they are ready to see the advantages in the party which helps the workingman."

H. J. Leutholtz and Bailey M. Birdsall of this place have associated themselves together in the auction business at 120 Sutter street, San Francisco, under the firm name of the Indiana Auction Company.

Miss Lulu Law of Red Bluff is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Law of this place.

Geo. Carr was visiting in the city this week.

Mrs. Eva Englebert came up from her city home Wednesday to spend several days with her son, H. Hartin and family.

Trustee Schocken is having Spain street, between First and Second streets East, graded and sidewalked.

D. D. Davisson visited Santa Rosa last Wednesday.

Edward H. Johannsen and Miss Adelaide La Vine were married in this place last Wednesday by Rev. Mr. Chase. The groom is the son of L. M. Johannsen, one of Sonoma Valley's oldest and most respected farmers. Miss La Vine is the niece of ex-Supervisor Cady.

Evening dresses of Louis XVI brocades are made up in charmingly quaint fashions. The skirt is sewed to the pointed waist, is made enormously full and is finished with little pads on the hips.

Young Mr. Boyes, a nephew of Capt. Boyes, is out from England and will make Sonoma Valley his home.

Soup stock which is to be kept any length of time should be suddenly cooled. This applies to any animal food that is not to be used at once.

Dr. Tony Nuffer returned this week from a short stay in San Francisco.

Printed velvets are a novelty of the season. They have much the appearance of being hand painted, and are charming in combination with satin or cloth.

The many friends of Hugh Maxwell, the popular young leader of the Sonoma Valley Band, will be pained to learn that he is lying seriously ill at the home of his mother in the western suburbs of town. Mr. Maxwell, while excavating in Sonoma Creek, one day this week, badly strained himself in the region of the stomach and it is feared he is injured internally.

If one wishes a black skirt to wear with several fancy waists, the addition of the godet hip pieces is desirable; in fact a last year's skirt of goods cut with this change would be up to date.

Clark Gaines is slowly improving and it will be some time before he will be able to use his broken leg.

Buttons are surely growing in favor and their size is certainly on the increase. They are becoming quite a necessary accessory of a costume nowadays and seriously increase the expense of the garments.

For exceedingly damp or warm weather during the summer an expedient for keeping the hair in curl is the use of alcohol. The hair should be wet with alcohol and then curled.

Spirits of turpentine is the thing with which to cleanse and brighten patent leather.

Some interesting facts appear in the fifteenth annual report of the British Inspector of Retreats licensed under the inebriates act. DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

Most Perfect Made. 40 Years the Standard.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The entertainment and bazaar given by the ladies of the Congregational Church Thursday and Friday of the past week was well attended and liberally patronized. An attractive programme was presented on both evenings. Miss Noble of San Francisco played a cornet solo and also rendered a vocal solo which received much applause. The proceeds were very satisfactory to the ladies in charge.

The woman whose face and throat are thin can remedy the thinness by frequent bathing in cool water, and before retiring rubbing in some good cream. In rubbing the wrinkles should be rubbed against, so as to rub them out, and it is as much in the rubbing as in the cream. A nice bit of soft white flannel rubbed several times daily over the face will be beneficial, and she whose double chin detracts from her good looks can, by judiciously rubbing downward, get rid of the superfluity.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, NOV. 9, 1895.

A Difficult Guest.

When Dickens first met Hans Christian Anderson in a London drawing room, he asked his fellow novelist to pay him a visit at Gadshill. The invitation was promptly accepted and the guest remained a long time.

Upon many occasions during his protracted visit Dickens found his patience put to the test by his new friend.

In spite of Hans Christian's many merits and good qualities, his very marked peculiarities made him an exceedingly difficult person to entertain.

He was extremely sentimental and emotional, and frequently, for no apparent reason, would burst into a flood of womanish tears and run away to his room.

A few days after his arrival he rang the bell and asked to see the eldest son of the house.

The eldest son was away, and when Dickens himself went to see what his guest desired he found that Anderson wished the eldest son to shave him, that being the custom of his own country.

Dickens explained that in the first place young Charles was absent, and that, secondly, it would be an experiment fraught with danger for him to attempt the desired service, as, with the very best intentions, he would probably nearly decapitate his illustrious guest.

Under these most untoward circumstances Hans Christian, weeping, betook himself to the nearest barber shop and had his beard attended to professionally.

A Queer Shampoo.

In one of the hotel barber shops a small Italian boy named Joe officiates with the whisk broom. The other day the hotel housekeeper sent down to the proprietor of the shop and asked him to fix her up a bottle of shampoo. He fixed it and told Joe to take it up to the housekeeper.

"You tell her," said the barber, "to take half a teacup of the shampoo and put it in two teacups of water and apply."

Joe took the shampoo and went up to the housekeeper with it. In a short time he came back, and the barber asked, "Give it to her all right?"

"Yes," said Joe.

"With the directions?"

"Yes," said Joe again.

Half an hour later the barber noticed the housekeeper out in the hall, looking curiously into the shop. He walked out to where she was.

"Hello!" she said. "Which is it? Are you drunk or crazy?"

"What do you mean?" asked the barber, with much dignity.

"You must be one or the other, judging from the message you sent up with that shampoo."

"What message did I send?"

"Joe told me you said to tell me to make a cup of tea and put it in the bottle and lie about it!"—Buffalo Express.

Philosophy of a Prince.

"Did you ever hear the story of how the Prince of Wales asked the sultan to go and see the Derby run?" asked Orlando Jones. "Well, it was this wise: The race for the Derby was about to be run, and as the sultan was then visiting England the prince sent one of his lords in waiting to inquire if the eastern potentate would not like to go and witness the classic contest. The son of the moon and stars was seated propped up by cushions, smoking placidly, when the royal emissary was ushered into his presence.

"'His royal highness bids me ask your majesty if it would please you to witness the race for the Derby?' said he, bowing low.

"'Does his royal highness mean that I should go and see a horse race?' inquired the sultan blandly.

"'He does, your highness.'

"'Tell the prince that I cannot do so,' replied the ruler of the faithful. 'Why should I want to go? All men who are not fools know that some horses are swifter than others.'"—Atlanta Journal.

"No Point" McGee.

J C McGee, one of the best known geologists in the government service, is called No Point McGee by his friends because, not having had a Christian name given him by his parents, when he went into the government service, he was compelled to choose distinguishing initials. He took all the letters of the alphabet, placed them in his hat and drew two at random. These he selected for his name, and since then he has signed himself J C McGee. This became known about the government office, and then his name was published J C McGee, without the periods, for the printers said there was no abbreviation.—Philadelphia Press.

Sowing and Reaping.

Here is a thought from Sir Frederick Leighton: "Whatever littleness degrades our spirits will lessen them and drag them down. Whatever noble fire is in our hearts will burn also in our work. Whatever purity is ours will chasten and exalt it, for as we are so our work is, and what we sow in our lives that beyond a doubt we shall reap for good or ill in the strengthening or defacing of whatever gifts have fallen to our lot."

Very Considerate.

A true husband thinks first of his wife's comfort, says a French journal.

Friend Perrichon, accompanied by his wife, took a trip to the outskirts of Paris. Very tired and hungry they entered an eating house. The proprietor declared that he had nothing but a chop to offer them.

"Only one!" exclaimed Perrichon. "Then what is my wife to have?"

Full of Business.

A tramp was put out to pasture on the Bancroft, Neb., rock pile recently with a ball and chain attachment. The attachment was not so great as to prevent his selling the ball and chain for $1 to a green farmer as a curio, and making off with the money.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhœa Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by all dealers.

The jury in the case of ex-Auditor Howell of Kern county, has returned a verdict of not guilty.

Hitchcock, Columbus, Wash., says: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy sells well and is highly praised by all who use it." For sale by all dealers.
